The mSupply Web Server

(This is an excerpt from the mSupply user guide)

About the mSupply Web Server

When mSupply's web server is running, it allows you to access mSupply data from any networked computer that has a web browser.

Security warning: The current version of mSupply does not include restricted access system. It is designed for use on small intranets only. Do not start the web server on computers that are accessible from the internet. Note however that the current web interface provides read-only access to your data only, so there is no danger of malicious editing or deleting of data.

The advantages of accessing mSupply in this way are:

- It's easy. Most people are familiar with using a web browser.
- It's low maintenance. You do not need to install any client software.
- It's cost effective. Once you have purchased a web server licence an unlimited number of people can connect.
- It allows customer access to information. The web interface built into mSupply can easily be customized to allow clients, supplier or other interested parties to have restricted access to the mSupply information you wish to show them. We are also able to include order submission by customers, making it easy for them to place small orders, and have real time information on stock availability.
- You can access mSupply from anywhere on the internet. Once we supply you with a password protected version of the web interface, you can access mSupply data from any internet connected computer.
- It's fast over low bandwith connections. The mSupply web server allows you to provide access to mSupply from locations that only have dial-up access

Currently the mSupply web server allows you to view information about names, items and transactions from any web browser on your network.

We are able to extend the web serving functionality of mSupply significantly according to client requirements.

Activating the web server

Choose File > Preferences, then click on "Web server" in the list.

Contact Sustainable Solutions for a licence

You can choose to start the web server or have it start automatically when mSupply starts.

By default mSupply is set to use port 8080. This is because the default port number for http access (80) on unix systems running mSupply can only be used by applications that have root privileges, and we don't want you to have to run mSupply as root!

If this is a problem, we can supply you with an application that redirects traffic on port 80 to port 8080.

Note that without a web server licence, mSupply's web server will only run for one hour. After this you will have to quit and start mSupply again to restore web server functionality (or better still, buy a licence for using the web server from us!)

Note: The web server functionality can easitly be extended from mSupply-simply let us have your suggestions !
